Most of the time you just go around in the game and patting a lot to catch fish. There's an almost irresistible number of gameplay modifiers on top of that, but none of them mind too much. Generally gameplay elements just add a percentage boosts to the top of the basic find fish, taps, do quest, repeat loop, so don't worry about not using them perfectly optimally. You want to make the most of all the different features, but using ok is no different from using them perfectly, so don't sweat too much. It's important to say that unlike most unassaided games, A Girl Adrift doesn't do much in the background at all. Timers all work while the game is open, and as such there is no inordinately long, wait 24 hours of timer for joint actions. Of course, there are also the usual mobile daily sign-up rewards that run out in real time, but mostly it's a game you play as fast as you're trying to play it, not as fast as it lets you. Quick tips!n game may seem irresistible, but remember that almost any possible upgrade is additive. No matter how you upgrade, you'll improve your overall progression speed, so feel free to spend as you please without worrying too much about what's best. Of course, this guide will also help you determine what is best, or at least what works. The translation is a little bad, mostly understandable, enough to be confusing. When in doubt, this guide will explain some of the confusing elements more thoroughly. For example, "relief items (what?) are small stocks that you see floating through parachutes. Fishing fishing is the primary action in A Girl Adrift, Once the fish is hooked, tap and tap, and you aim to deplete the HP meter of the fish before the timeline comes left. You can win if you go to win or not based on which meter is exhausted faster in most cases. Fish difficulties are indicated by the colour of the HP fish bar (unfortunately, I do not believe that there is indicator, but you can fairly easily tell more slowly the timer) Purple fish are extremely difficult in your current progress, and if the fish health bar is red, it is practically impossible, so go somewhere and level the fish. Boss fish are a particularly heavy fish that you have to defeat to raise your RangComboUnlocked to rank 10 and upgraded on the Mastery tab, Combos improve the experience and fishcake by 5% per consecutive fish and expire if the fish is not caught successfully in a certain period of time. CurrenciesOne of the superior aspects of A Girl Adrift is just an abundance of currencies, due to the lack of a better term. Each of them has a certain use and usually does not have many wrong ways to use any of them, but it is good to understand each of them. They are individually very simple, only irresistible when you see them all at once (which is why many are unlocked gradually). ExperienceMaximum level: 4181A reason is acquired by fishing and raises your level at the bottom of the screen. You don't see the values of the experience directly, but you can see how much a particular fish adds to your level gauge at the bottom of the screen. Firmer fish gives more experience, of course. No spending experience, it simply automatically accumulates while playing and determines your basic attacking strength (and therefore how fast you can beat a fish with your weapon). FishcakeStorage Maximum: 1000nFishcakes are basically a secondary set of Experience points that you invest in one of your weapons. It is mostly earned from fishing, but the farm also produces Fishcake and random air droplets float by as well. In general, it is best to spend your fish cake somewhat evenly. Fishcake's weapons level serves as a multiplier at the top of your level, so leveling is still key to addressing the most fish damage. The weapon can go to the same level as your character, and therefore max at 4181. PearlsStorage Maximum: 50,000This is the currency that is actually most used as a currency; you can buy and upgrade Skins (clothing, parts of the boat, etc.) in various ports. Pearls are earned by a variety of methods, including periodic achievements, completing tasks and selling items dropped by Rare Fish.Pearl values for selling items:Junk (of any kind)2Junk is a useful but extremely low value in stores, don't sell it!Stick2 PearlsSticks can be used for several home upgrades as well asTooth necklaceSilver toothWhite scalesCoralSilver TiarGreen FinBlue crystal thingPurple Crescent45 Pearls15 MasteryFound in the remains of the inscription and laterJunkMinimum Rank: 16Junk is stored in your inventory as an item, but is mainly used for upgrading/making and is therefore a kind of currency. Garbage is made by fishing with a detector. I'm not really sure how finding Junk works yet, but what you get depends on what area of the sea you're in. The Fishcake and Experience Junk awards are equal to the highest level of fish you've caught. MasteryPointsStorage Maximum: Points are used to buy and upgrade Skills, and are earned by visiting special locations, completing Quests, and the quickest way to get them is by trading beverages at the Alchemy site. NationsStorage Maximum: 3,000nPotions complete the downside, buy self-selling tickets and can be traded for Mastery points at Alchemy (this is generally the best way to use them) or traded for Pearls in Alchemy (Auto-Sell tickets are more efficient for Pearls). Beverages increase efficiency by 0.02% each beverage used up to 100% of the total effect. Once on this cap potions will recover 60 flaws, give 22 mastery or 60 pearls each. Free use of alchemy gives 3 beverages worth pearls / Mastery.Beverages can be obtained by the following methods: Hot Time Login RewardDaily Login RewardWatching the Growth/nation adsBuying IAP quest rewardsEventsManaMinimum Rank: 6 Maximum storage: 100In no currency like the others, you have a maximum of 100 Flaws and spend it on cast skills. The flaw automatically regenerates by 1 unit per 100 seconds by default, and can also be filled with floating Mana balls floating with parachutes like Fishcakes. The artifact increases Man's recovery rate by 20% per level, the Amber StonesMinimum Rank: 22 Maximum storage: 2 billionAmber Stones fall legendary fish (the amount you can get increases because you are able to do more damage to the legendary fish). Amber Stones is used to upgrade the Altar. The first level of the altar is the most important. Amber Stones can double every legendary fish by watching the ad. Because of the way the Amber Stones are awarded (for every time you exhaust legendary fish's ever-expanding HP bars), autofish isn't actually significantly less effective at growing the Amber Stones compared to fighting them by hand. Most of the stones will be earned almost immediately, and the longer fight is really just for a fairly smaller amount of accessories. Magic EssenceMinimum Rank: 32 Storage Maximum: 5,000This are made from fishing (rare) and are used to upgrade Thunderstorms. Thunder Storms level to 8 permanently, significantly increasing the Amber Stones you get from fishing there. By upgrading Rank 8 Thunderstorm you can fight a different Legendary Fish worth even more Amber Stones. You can only upgrade an active thunder, upgrade it so quickly before you fight Legendary Fish, or make sure you upgrade before you leave or you won't get a second chance until another Legendry appears there. You can see how much Magic Essence you have by tapping the Amber Stone icon at the bottom of the screen. You can also quickly upgrade Legendry Fish directly from the Legendary Fish icon that appears to the right of the screen (the one that takes you to the fish) to upgrade To Thunderstorm level 8 even before you get there. DiamondsStorage Maximum: 20,000 One true blue Premium currency in A Girl Adrift is Diamonds. You can only get diamonds by paying for IAPs, getting 20 a day for daily i dowrřavaniem dowřavaniem one-time task sets. Once you're done with your tasks, you won't be getting free diamonds over 20 a day anymore. CurrencyStorage Event Maximum: 2,200Event currencies are earned simply by fishing. To buy each cosmetic item requires a large amount, and the event currency cap is low. You can hold only 2200 currencies despite Skins costing 2000 currencies, so make sure you buy skin as soon as you have enough. If you are idling girl Adrift collect event currency you will want to check regularly to make sure you are not grinding past the cap. The currency of the event is lost at the end of the event, so spend it if you can always buy drinks even if you have all the unique items. Triangle stuff?? Minimum ranking: 40nicks soon? Rank 40+ InfoRank 40 is obviously Major Spoiler and I haven't reached it yet. If you are ranked 40+ and need information, here are two useful super spoiler filled links:How to play after R40R40+ Data CollectionGrindingWhen the game is not working while the app is closed unlike many empty games, there are still methods that allow you to truly automate grinding in the game. Exactly how you do it depends on what you want. General Overnight Grinding (Experience/Fishcake)The only most important thing to grind is Auto-Fish. Combined with the fishing speed skill, Auto-Fish will actually automatically catch fish faster than if you had fought it by hand despite being completely in the pan. Using automatic skills also helps a lot, because you can tinker with the speed of fishing as soon as it becomes available, drastically increasing the amount of fish you will catch. While not necessary, higher levels of auto-fish can help a lot, adding the possibility of auto-fish rare fish, Boss Fish, allowing you to benefit from Combos, and at the maximum level you can turn on the Auto-Fish button that automatically pulls the legendary fish/Junk/fish which is a level too high for Auto-Fish.To grinding, make sure you have Auto-Pisces and ideally those other skills, then travel to the fishing area and throw your line. Leave a line somewhere where you are sure you can beat 100% of the fish that appear (about on or below your level is generally safe). Once you're auto-fishing, you can just leave the game on (don't leave the screen), put on Ignore mode (moon icons) and reduce the brightness of your phone to a minimum to reduce battery consumption, and leave your phone on the charger overnight as a mode of fishing automatically. You will wake up at a higher level, a lot of fish cake, and maybe more if you use some of the lower specialized grinding methods. Don't forget to grab your hot weather rewards, your daily check-in rewards, pearls of achievement, spend event currency and level your weapon whenever you sign up after grinding. Pearls GrindingPearls grinding is a more active affair, and can be done most easily after Auto-Voyage lvl 1 is purchased in the Mastery section. The best way to is usually place Auto Voyage only on pearls location on Rarest (first areas with higher-level declines). You're going to Auto-Fish level 4, as well as you can Auto-Fish Rare Fish.Be safely turn off the Detector unless you also want to catch Junk while you're on it. This is a pretty good way to collect junk, but Junk also fills your inventory faster. Basically the game will car journey between active rare fish spots to collect your items, and eventually once your inventory is full, it will take you to port where you will have to sell things manually. That's why it's more manual than most grinding. If you leave the game overnight, you'll just end up in port within about an hour and waste the rest of your time. Early on you'll probably want to do some Pearls Grinding because you can't do Amber Stones yet, and Pearls are very valuable early on while there are a lot of cheap Skins to buy. It's also fair to do Pearls Grinding while active and Amber Stones grinding while busy/sleeping/etc. You can buy Auto-Sell tickets with beverages to make Pearls Grinding truly automated (until it runs out of tickets!), but I'm not sure it's worth it, especially if you have a mastery of buying with beverages, which is how I spend them. There is also a max of 20 Auto Sell tickets so eventually the game will run out and stop anyway. Automatic ticket sales don't run ads when they sell. A softer type of pearl grinding can only grind overnight in a place that has a rare fish with automatic travel; in this way, your inventory will fill up, but you will not go to the port and so never stop fishing. However, this excludes you from the breeding of the Amber Stones. Mastery GrindingThis isn't actually as automated as any other grinding method, but with level 3 automatic travel you can automatically move between Mastery locations as their cooling ends. You will need to play minigames manually. Personally, I don't think it's worth it because Alchemy and Black Market are the only places that get good mastery. Generally wasting beverages directly is the best way to get Mastery (and IMO, the best way to wear beverages). Amber Stones GrindingAmber Stone grinding requires Auto Voyage Level 4, Auto-Fish level 6 and of course the legendary fish/amber stone to be unlocked (Rank 24). To grind you will want to set Auto Voyage only on the Amber Stones and leave it on, and otherwise grind normally overnight. You'll also need to turn on the Auto-Fish button, otherwise you won't pull legendary fish and get stuck on Thunderstorm.This is generally the best way to grind overnight, as it doesn't really reduce your amount of Experience much and works completely automatically unlike Pearl Grinding. You will wake up with a large amount of EXP, Fishcake and Amber Stones.Event GrindingEvent grinding is no different from generic/amber grinding: Just catch a lot of fish overnight/ until you play. You should simply fill your full 2,200 event currency spots overnight, earning you at least one event a day if you only grow overnight; just enough to be any one of them can get at least two if you grind day and night and check at least once in the morning and once in the evening of the day / before bedtime. IMO is always worth grinding a little bit more to get even stuff, they are very hard to come by otherwise, they are fun to have, and they have gameplay bonuses like all other Skins.UpgradeMasteryMastery is used to unlock and upgrade passive skills, which makes it very important. In general you will want to spread your points wide and shallow, unlocking everything, but waiting to pay for the most expensive upgrades until later. Here is a table with the prices of Mastery by level. It costs an impressive 131,040 Mastery to upgrade everything.
